solely on the individual's past lawful foreign travel experiences.

2. An insurer may not refuse life insurance to, refuse to continue life insurance of, or limit the amount, extent, or kind of life insurance coverage available to an individual based solely on the individual's future lawful travel plans unless the insurer can demonstrate and the Office of Insurance Regulation determines that insureds who intend to travel are a separate actuarially supportable class whose risk of loss is different from those insureds who do not intend to travel.

3. The commission may adopt rules necessary to implement this paragraph and may provide for limited exceptions that are based upon national or international emergency conditions that affect the public health, safety and welfare and that are consistent with public policy.

Section 3. This act shall take effect July 1, 2006.
